Van Horn Law Group, P.A. Celebrates
Team Members' 10-year Anniversary at the Firm

Van Horn Law Group, P.A., the largest bankruptcy firm in Broward based on cases filed,* celebrates the 10-year anniversary of three dedicated paralegals at the firm this week: Martha Cayo, Anthony “Jay” Molluso and Milagros Scribani. For their commitment and great work, Van Horn Law Group gifted them with an all-expense-paid trip anywhere in the United States plus $500 in spending money. Founding partner Chad Van Horn, Esq. appreciates his team and their critical role in the firm’s success, and goes above and beyond to provide recognition for them.

“This firm thrives because of the 35-member team who work so hard for our clients, day in and day out,” said Van Horn. “Martha, Jay and Milagros are stand-out professionals who have done excellent work for the past 10 years. I’m very grateful for them and am happy to recognize them for their dedication to Van Horn Law Group and our clients.”

Martha Cayo, a paralegal focused primarily Chapter 7 and Chapter 13 bankruptcy, also manages human resources at the Van Horn Law Group. A Polk State College graduate and a Puerto Rico native, Cayo decided to become a paralegal after working at Van Horn Law Group for several years, recognizing that she could help people struggling with debt.

Milagros Scribani, originally from Caracas, Venezuela, also handles Chapter 7 and Chapter 13 bankruptcy cases. One of her greatest successes was a Chapter 7 Bankruptcy for an individual who had acquired more than a million dollars in debt. She walked him through the bankruptcy process and helped him restructure his life and finances. Scribani attended Santa Maria Universidad in Venezuela and studied English at Miami-Dade College. She holds a Legal Assistant Certificate from Nova Community School and has fine tuned her expertise by attending multiple bankruptcy seminars hosted by the Miami Bankruptcy Workshop and National Association of Bankruptcy Attorneys (NACBA).

Jay Molluso joined Van Horn Law Group when he moved to Fort Lauderdale from Pennsylvania to “retire,” after practicing law in Pennsylvania for 38 years. He joined the firm as a part-time paralegal** to stay busy and quickly became an integral part of the Van Horn Law Group support team. He moved into a full-time post as a paralegal, helping clients navigate the Chapter 11 system, which he continues today.

Molluso graduated from Hamilton College in New York, earned his juris doctor from Temple University School of Law in Philadelphia, and subsequently passed the Pennsylvania bar in November of 1969.
